

Conclusion

Congratulations

- Responsive Design is a key component to web design today.
- It touches on user experience, graphical design, and coding
- It can also affect SEO

Using Frameworks

- Learning to use a framework will strengthen your general understanding of concepts, e.g classes, linking to other files, etc.

What next?

- Continue to practice your skills
- Use code from others to create different looks
- Begin your own portfolio!

Thank you!
